Kovach Addresses Fish and Game Association

The need for more provincial government action with regard to all phases of fish and game life in Alberta was strongly emphasized by William Kovach, M.L.A., who addressed a meeting of the Coleman Fish and Game Association June 1st.

Mr. Kovach stated that there was a great need for more stocking of fish in Alberta's streams and ponds. Comparing Alberta with Montana, Mr. Kovach said that last year Montana, which is half the size of Alberta, with a far smaller population, planted 13 million fish as compared to Alberta's two million.

He stressed the need for improving streams, ponds and natural places for breeding and rearing fish and felt that the Pass was an ideal area for a fish hatchery.

He backed this thought by stating that a local party was very successfully raising fish in this area. Despite the fact that some government officials thought that pollution of Alberta streams and creeks was negligible, Mr. Kovach stated that their minds would be changed in a hurry if they visited some of the mining areas in the south.

Mr. Kovach asked the local Fish and Game Associations to support his endeavors in trying to promote more money and more government activity with regard to better fish and wildlife programs.

During the meeting the matter of the bottom end of Allison Creek, north-west of Coleman, dividing itself into a number of smaller creeks, was brought up. A letter will be sent to the Department of Water Resources requesting permission for the Association to clean out and divert the water back into its one original channel.

Over 30 Junior Forest Wardens, who are sponsored by the Association, were present to hear Mr. Kovach speak. Leader of the group John Deans, presented a report to the Association, indicating that the lads were planning a busy season.

A Council of members of the Fish and Game group was appointed to attend the Junior Forest Wardens' meetings to aid with the work and report back to the Association meetings.

Bill Fiewich reported that Victory Creek was being polluted with coal dust and that this water was running into the town dam.

A letter will be sent by the Association to the Chief Biologist in Edmonton requesting he visit the Pass and look into the matter.

The Association will seek permission from the Fisheries branch to build some fish ponds in an area east of Coleman where young fish could be raised for planting in local creeks and streams each spring.

The matter of several local fishermen being prosecuted for having over their limit of fish was brought up and these members have been expelled from the Association. The Association is urging all members to abide by the Fish and Game regulations.

The committee in charge of finding a site for a new dam project similar to the Allison Creek project undertaken by the Association several years ago, reported that several locations were still being studied for their suitability.

THE ROYAL LIFE SAVING SOCIETY

The Mountbatten Medal for 1964 has been awarded to LYNDA RUTH DANN
of Vulcan, Alberta.

Council Pass Several By-Laws

Coleman Council gave third reading to a by-law at its meeting June 8th, providing authorization for the town to borrow up to a maximum of $100,000 to meet necessary immediate sewerage payments. The money will be borrowed as required from the local bank with interest rate not to exceed six per cent.

Third reading was also given to by-law 344 providing for the setting of a 5,000 pound load limit on bridges over Nez Perce Creek in town. Signs will also be erected on other bridges advising vehicle drivers that they cross at their own risk.

Council approved payment of a Progress Certificate covering work and material done by Tolstrup Construction on the sewerage system being installed in town.

The Certificate called for payment of $55,000 from which amount the town will hold back $7,000, making the required payment $38,000. Council also approved payment of $11,000 to its engineering firm of Underwood McLellan and Associates.

The matter of setting a schedule for the use of the recreational field at the Horace Allen high school by local ball clubs and other groups was brought to the attention of council.

A motion was made by Councillor Joe Hanrahan that this matter be turned over to the Sports Association, who, in conjunction with the School Board, are to draw up a suitable schedule for use of the field.

Council satisfactorily explained to a local ratepayer that the contractors who were laying sewerage lines on Fourth street, which is also Highway No. 3, were running the lead lines to residences along the highway to avoid again having to dig up the highway once it is paved. This same procedure will be followed on the main street in town, so as to conserve the pavement after it is laid. These persons will have to pay the same fee as other residents who wish to hook onto the sewerage system.

Representatives of the town's engineering firm were present and discussed a number of problems being encountered in the sewerage system. A plan of extensions to service the entire town of Coleman is being prepared by the engineers who will bring in a colored plan to next meeting of council. The plan will show in color the extensions that are being contemplated and which will cost an approximate $21,000.

The dust problem on Fourth St. was brought up and secretary-treasurer T. A. Colistler reported that a town water truck had been employed one day to sprinkle the roads. He further advised that a supply of oil was on hand and that the roads are to be gravelled and oiled this week.

Council authorized Mr. Colistler

to appoint an enumerator and to attempt to hire a university or a high school student to do this work.

Correspondence from the Chinook Health Unit indicated that Coleman was enjoying good water and that there was no unfavorable contamination in the samples sent in to the provincial laboratories in Calgary.

In other business council approved survey of the area west of the Horace Allen high school for a building sub-division; exchange of a piece of land for another with the Forestry Branch; sending a plan of re-plotting a section of a portion of Coleman to the Old Man River Planning Commission for their approval; construction of a dugout on the outside of the recreation ground on condition it be moved if council requests this at a later date; reserving three lots for 30 days for Phillips Electric Corporation; installation of a 30-inch culvert across the highway near the Kananaskis Service Station; two hour parking signs to be erected in the area of the B. A. garage on Fourth street.

Council also heard the report of the police department which showed that a busy month had been experienced with fines totalling $365 payable to the town, being collected during the month of May.

Mine Fire Under Control

Martin Aschacker, superintendent of mines for Coleman Collieries, reports that the coal company now have the "gob fire" under control in 22 chutes in the Vicary Creek Mine.

Work crews reinforced the bottom half of the timber stopping with concrete and then water contained fibretex was pumped into the chute about 70 feet above the fire. The fibretex sealed the timber stopping below the fire and the water is now backing successfully up the chute.

Mr. Aschacker also stated that with the heavy rains experienced in the Pass over the last week-end that runoff in the mountains above the mine was fairly heavy.

He said that water was coming into the mine via the passage that had flooded the mine in mid-February, but the water was not causing any problem.

The company are not working the inside section of the mine as a safety precaution so that in the event of a heavy accumulation of water should break through into the mine no one would be endangered. Men that were working the inside area of the mine have been put on other jobs and to accommodate the men so that no shifts are lost the company are working three shifts, instead of the regular two shifts.

Mr. Aschacker added that it is expected that normal operations will resume this week.

The couple then proceeded to Coleman to enjoy two weeks holiday and will now travel to Vancouver and Victoria to visit a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Gus James of Vancouver.

After their holiday at the west coast they will board The Canadian and will proceed to Galt, Ont., to visit with their daughter for another three weeks before returning home.

JUNE 19 - 25

This is a fairly routine week of television viewing — most of the new and returning summer shows won't make their debuts until early in July.

The Major League Championship baseball game scheduled for Saturday afternoon pits the Chicago Cubs against the Cincinnati Reds at Crosley Field. Game time is 1 p.m. in Manitoba; 12 in Saskatchewan and 11 a.m. in Alberta.

The recently deceased actress, Judy Holiday stars with Dean Martin in the musical comedy, "Bells Are Ringing" on Great Movies Saturday evening at 8:30. Judy, as Ella Peterson, works for a telephone answering service and has the unfortunate habit of getting involved with the problems of her customers as she takes and delivers their messages. She falls in love, sight unseen, with the party answering the phone at Plaza 0483, the number of playboy playwright Jeff Moss.

Sunday at 3:30 p.m. the documentary 20/20 will present "Diary of a Radio Newsmen", a day in the life of controversial writer-broadcaster Jack Webster.

The cameras follow Webster all through his daily rounds which include an open line radio program from 9 a.m. to noon, lunch at the Vancouver newsmen's club, an early afternoon golf date with his son, taping of a CBC panel show in the afternoon and then two more radio broadcasts, "City Mike" and "Talk Back to Webster".

Sunday night's Human Camera feature will be "Television and the World", a global survey of television for which BBC producer Richard Cawston travelled (twice) around the world. The film which won countless international awards examines the television systems in Italy, Egypt, Thailand, Japan, the United States, Brazil, Russia, Poland and Nigeria.

"Television and the World" will be seen at 10 p.m. on the CBC television network.

This Monday's Show of the Week, titled "Finale" is just that, the last program in the series. It stars Rich Little in his most challenging role ever. The talented young Canadian mimic will attempt to do one hundred and three different vocal characterizations in three minutes. Then in the show's major sketch, Rich Little will play all the roles in "Liberace in Wonderland". Also on the playbill are beautiful Betty Robertson, The Billy Van Four, folksingers Malka and Josie and the Phil Nimmons' n' Orchestra. Show time is 8 p.m.

The first North American television appearance of this continent's most celebrated instrumental group, the Stern-Istomin-Rose trio will be presented on Wednesday, night, June 23rd, in the third Festival concert "In Praise of Great Performers". Producer Vincent Tovell in discussing the production and its participants, violinist Isaac Stern, pianist Eugene Istomin and cellist Leonard Rose, says "Watching three musicians of their stature is an exciting experience. We have tried to create pictures that don't get in the way of the music—that, on the contrary, help the viewer to both hear and feel it. Their program will include Trio in C Minor, Opus 1, No. 3 by Beethoven, and Trio in C Major, Opus 87, by Brahms.

Mart Thompson has served for over 20 years in the maintenance division as machine and "cat" operator. He intends to remain in Fort Macleod after his retirement.

Joe Hanrahan succeeds Mr. Simpson as district general foreman. Mr. Hanrahan joined the department of highways in August, 1935, in Fort Macleod. He was transferred to Coleman in 1940, and spent the war years in the RCAF. After the war he worked in Pincher Creek, and spent the last 19 years as foreman in the Crows Nest Pass area.

He married the former Pearl Fischer in 1941. They have three children and one grand-child.

Cartwright Pass Foreman

Succeeding Mr. Hanrahan as foreman in the Crows Nest Pass area is William J. Cartwright, who has been with the department for the last eight years, working out of Coleman.

Report From Parliament Hill

(Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

Parliament has been busily engaged in a debate on how the Rules of Parliament may best be changed in order to assist Parliament in carrying out its functions more expeditiously.

There is much misunderstanding of Parliament, and consequently a great deal of serious and uninformed criticism. It is described as being inefficient; its rules and procedure obsolete; its organization of business antiquated. Reform of Parliament is today's catch-phrase.

People say that the sessions last too long; that Members talk too much; that speeches should be shorter; that time limits should be imposed before debates are commenced. "Streamline this procedure," we are told, "and get down to business."

The weakness of the criticism is based on a misunderstanding of the function of Parliament. Parliament is not an administrative body—it is a place for debate.

We look to the Cabinet and to the Civil Service to carry out administration. Twenty Departments have been set up for that purpose, and thousands of civil servants are employed to carry on the day-to-day work. Parliament's duty and task is to examine government policy, its taxation and spending programs, and its legislative proposals.

Members of Parliament may agree on some issues, but on many they disagree. Parliament is the place for argument, where differences of opinion are aired and where attempts are made to resolve those differences. Parliament is the focus of public opinion and governments often have to modify or withdraw their proposals if debate and controversy in the House of Commons discloses that the course of action should be changed.

I consider that the citizens of Canada should be concerned not with the length of Parliamentary sessions or the length or number of Members' speeches, but rather with the function of Parliament.

They should be concerned with the policies of the government, with the alertness and activity of the Opposition. For our system recognizes that to maintain freedom and our democratic way of life there must be an Opposition in Parliament to restrain the government from arbitrary or autocratic action, to redress grievances; to check unnecessary expenditures; to disclose wrong-doing to public view and generally to express the varying points of view of freedom loving people.

For our system is founded on the freedom of the individual within the law. Members of Parliament are representative of that freedom. Its maintenance is assured if it is the will of the people that freedom of speech be maintained. Restrictions rigidly imposed on that freedom in Parliament would lead inevitably to dictatorship.

'Some Are Sunfishers' Wins Canadian Film Award

Molson's Western Breweries Limited has just been informed that "Some Are Sunfishers" has won a Certificate of Merit at the recent Canadian Film Awards. The film won in the category "General Information".

"Some Are Sunfishers" was produced by Chetwynd Films Ltd. for Molson's Western Breweries.

It tells of the last overland trek of the bucking broncos to the 1964 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede from the Stampede ranch at Youngstown, Alberta.

Stars of the film are Fletcher Markle and Jim Armstrong.

The Canadian Film Awards, which are sponsored annually by the Canada Foundation, the Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Film Institute awarded the first prize to "Some Are Sunfishers" in a field of 13 Canadian films.

The citation claimed that it won because of "the refreshingly different and completely natural treatment of an interesting Canadian subject — the wild horse run to the Calgary Stampede".

It can be seen by interested clubs and organizations by contacting the Sicks' Lethbridge office in Calgary at 263-2270.

Canada Theatre

(Clayton Bricker)

Again this year we have learned that two NFB films are nominated for Oscars by the Hollywood Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences "Christmas Cracker" and "Kenjuak".

"Christmas Cracker" is an unusual Christmas cartoon — the work of a group of artists, animators and musicians. It runs nine minutes in color and has three acts — Maurice Blackburn's cut-out, animated version of Jingle Bells, Jeff Hale's lively ballet of tin toys performing to Eldon Rathburn's Jazz Music, and Gerald Potterson in his jolly space vehicle seeking a star from the sky for his tree but finding he cannot make it stay put! The curtain falls with only a smile remaining for jest and jester.

"Kenjuak", made by John Feeney, presents an artist who is also wife and mother, and who makes her drawings when free from duties of trail or camp. Here is a strange world where in the Arctic twilight, snow, sky, air seem to throng with shadows:

"Many are the thoughts that rush over me,
Like the wings of birds out of darkness".

Such is the commentary of her thoughts which give us understanding of the images she creates. They appear like winged birds, wavering shadows on the snow.

At the Co-operative Art Centre of Cape Dorset, Knopjak's drawings are transposed by the stone-cutter Iyola and, from this design the printers work with confidence to make a limited number of prints on fine rice paper for sale in the Galleries of the South.

Awards Night in Hollywood and again Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies. These nominations will add interest to the affair for Canadians.

CANADA'S NEW LABOUR CODE Hon. Allan MacLachlan, Minister of Labour, answers some questions:

"Our new Canada Labour Code has been called a 'first,' Mr. MacLachlan. Would you agree?"

"Yes, and it is one of the most all-embracing. Canada has a right to be proud of it. It sets higher standards than have been set for any other country I know. Other countries are taking note of the way Canadian Parliament is ensuring that more workers share in this country's growth."

"Briefly, who does this new Code apply to?"

"It applies to industries which fall under Federal jurisdiction—and may well prove to be a guide for other industries. The Government itself, which is a large employer in its own right, will take the lead by applying the Code's standards to its own federal employees."

"Let's get down to specifics. What, exactly, does it promise to those employees who are affected by it?"

"As we said, it sets minimum standards—and I stress that these are minimum, because, of course, a lot of workers already enjoy higher standards than the Code sets.

First, it sets a standard 8 hour day and a 40 hour week, with overtime limited to 8 hours a week, and paid for at time-and-a-half.

Second, it sets the minimum wage rate for all men and women over 17 years of age at $1.25 an hour.

Next, it provides for two weeks annual vacation with pay, after one year's service; or 4% of wages as vacation pay for those with from 30 days to a year's service.

Finally, it stipulates that each employee shall get eight statutory holidays with pay a year—or get a full day off in lieu of the holiday."

"You said the new Code applies to industries under Federal jurisdiction. Would you name them?"

"The Code covers interprovincial or international rail and highway transport, primary fishing where the fishermen work for wages, air transport, radio and TV, shipping, banks, uranium mining, grain elevators, flour and feed mills and warehousing, seed cleaning mills, interprovincial or international pipelines and ferries, interprovincial or international telegraphs and telephones, most Crown corporations and one or two other smaller industries."

If you are not sure whether you are covered by the Canada Labour (Standards) Code, write to Department of Labour, Ottawa.

Modern advertising is a necessity to hold and build business. Be proud of your business, of the goods you have to sell, of the services you have to offer in your particular line. Show the progressive spirit and the desire to serve by advertising. Do not hide your light under a bushel — proclaim far and wide who you are and what you have to sell and where your place of business is, for public memory is short, and advertising is a powerful aid to all types of businesses. C.Y.O. RALLY

On Saturday, May 29th, Holy Ghost Parish, Coleman, played host to over 70 representatives of the Catholic Young Peoples' groups from Blairmore, Bellevue, Twin Butte, Pincher Creek, Cowley, Hillcrest and Coleman.

The day's activities began with a Mass celebrated by Father Krewsky in the Parish Church at noon. Following the Mass the young people enjoyed a Communion "brunch" in the Parish hall.

During lunch nine guests at the head table introduced themselves and their respective C.Y.O. groups and commented upon the importance to such a day to the young people and thanked everyone for their enthusiastic support.

The guests at the head table included Father Kramer of Cowley, Chaplain for the Crows Nest Pass District; Father Henke of Bellevue; Father Krewsky of Coleman; Father Kerosa of Pincher Creek; Sister Rose Therese of Blairmore and Renzo Castellari of Blairmore.

The afternoon conference began when the vice-president of the Coleman C.Y.O., Mark Ondrus, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Eric Price of Blairmore.

Mr. Price spoke on the obstacles to Faith which confront teen-agers when they leave home to enter secular universities, colleges and occupations.

He stressed the need for personal convictions as a guard against intellectual and moral misconceptions and obscene literature.

After the talk the 70 students were divided into study groups, where they discussed the questions and thoughts which Mr. Price had posed. After an hour of private discussion six chairmen were selected from the groups for a panel discussion to exchange the various insights which the different groups had touched upon.

After a short refreshments break Louis Hobson of Blairmore, who had acted as discussion leader, summed up the discussion and the Young People left for Blairmore, where they spent two hours bowling at the Crow Bowling Alleys.

At 6 o'clock the teen-agers returned to the Coleman Parish hall for a banquet and dance, thus concluding their activities.

$8 each, S. Hudz and Mrs. M. Gate, $11, Mrs. J. Rushon.

The next bingo night will be on June 18 when a jackpot prize of $200 will be offered for the first blackout in 57 numbers.

Air Canada has presented the design concept of the $1,500,000 pavilion it will build on the site of EXPO 67 on Montreal's St. Helen's Island. The pavilion, based on the helix principle, will feature a fan-blade roof and four distinct areas depicting man's desire to fly and the impact the achievement of this dream has had on the world.

An ounce of prevention...$126,000,000 a year

Preventive care and treatment is a major contributing factor to the high standard of public health Albertans enjoy. Your Department of Public Health maintains diagnostic and treatment clinics for cancer, cerebral palsy, mental health, rheumatoid arthritis, social hygiene and tuberculosis.

The Department co-operates with, and assists financially, local Health Units and city Health Departments throughout the province to provide services to infants and pre-school children... school health programs... investigation of outbreaks of communicable diseases... immunization of all age groups for whooping cough, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, tetanus and smallpox... supervision of community sanitation... pollution control... and health education programs.

The estimated cost to maintain this program of preventive care and treatment this year amounts to $126,326,000 — 25¢ per day for every man, woman and child in Alberta. A small price to pay compared to the high cost of care.

And when illness does strike, Albertans find it comforting to know that they can receive the finest hospital care for a maximum of $2.00 per day.
